Dear Mr. President:

We hereby express our sincere appreciation for your supportive and encouraging stance toward the people of Iran and your particular attention to the current national revolution.

This perspective has brought your message of hope, solidarity, and support to the people inside Iran who are fighting this inhuman regime with their bare hands.

We hope that this support, within the framework of responsible and constructive cooperation, will lead to improved conditions, progress, development, and prosperity in Iran and in the Middle East.

Recognizing the Prince Reza Pahlavi as a leader of the national revolution by the President of the United States would certainly mark the end of this terrorist Islamic regime in Iran and shall be another encouraging message in support of the Iranian people seeking freedom.

Respectfully

Assadollah Nasre-Esfahani (former minister)
