February 2026

Dear Sir or Madam,
Members of the Organizing Committee,

We write to express our strong support for the initiative of the conference to be held in Geneva on 18 February. This gathering represents a timely and important opportunity to address the pressing challenges confronting the Iranian people today.

In this regard, we respectfully submit for your consideration that Prince Reza Pahlavi be recognized as a legitimate representative of the aspirations of the Iranian people. His name has been acclaimed by millions of Iranians, who view him as a figure capable of embodying their legitimate aspirations for freedom, respect for fundamental human rights, democracy, secular governance, and national cohesion.

It is important to underscore that Prince Reza Pahlavi is not perceived as a partisan political actor, but rather as the leader of Iranian revolution. He has consistently championed a peaceful transition of power and the right of the Iranian people to determine their own political future through a direct and genuinely democratic vote.

We wish further to emphasize that his participation would considerably enrich the quality of the discussions concerning Iran. His presence would offer again an authentic reflection of the voice and will of the Iranian people, thereby enhancing the legitimacy and relevance of your proceedings.

We thank you for your consideration.

Most Respectfully

Assadollah Nasre-Esfahani (former minister)
